ORDER

Appellant pro se, having failed to serve and file a brief within 14 days after entry of the appeal on the docket as required by Bankruptcy Rule 8009(a), it is this 31st day of October 2014,

ORDERED that appellant show cause within 14 days of the date of this Order why this appeal should not be dismissed. Failure to show good cause within 14 days of the date of this Order shall result in this Court making a finding that the failure to comply with Bankruptcy Rule 8009(a) was negligent and that any further delay in prosecuting this appeal will be prejudicial to appellee and to the orderly and expeditious management of the affairs of the Bankruptcy Court.
